

SEND information report

Welcome to Corfe Hills School's Special Educational Needs and Disabilities (SEND) Information Report.

In this report, you can find the answers to questions about how we support our students with additional needs. If there are questions that are not answered here, please do get in touch with the school office where we will be happy to answer your queries.

Corfe Hills School truly values the relationship between the school and its families; because of this, we do welcome any suggestions that you may have about SEND provision at our school.

Our school currently has 942 students on roll. Of this, 16.6% are identified as having a SEND.

Schools use lots of letters when discussing SEND. A guide to some of the common acronyms can be found here.

How does the school know if the young people need extra help and what should I do if I think my child may have special educational needs?

All students at Corfe Hills School are informally assessed, both academically and socially and more formally assessed for academic progress. If we are concerned about a student's progress, we will monitor the student to collect information and provide relevant support. This will take approximately six weeks.

If your child is still not making expected progress, the subject teacher will seek the support of the SENCo and meet with you (and your child, if that is appropriate) to discuss how we can support your child's learning. It may be appropriate at this point for your child to be added to the SEND register. For more information about the SEND register, what it is and how it works, please click here.

If your child is placed on the register, we work carefully with you to identify appropriate support for your child. This is recorded on a student information profile and reviewed at least termly.

If there are still concerns about your child's progress, we may, in consultation with you and your child, and if appropriate, decide that an application for an EHCP may be required. For more information about EHCPs, what they are and how they work, please click here.

At all stages, we will involve you and your child fully in any decisions made as you are the ones who know your children best.

If you are worried about your child's progress, please do not hesitate to contact their subject teacher in the first instance. You can do this by phoning the school on 01202 006666 or using the school email address: office@corfehills.net

How will Corfe Hills School support my child?

Your child has subject teachers who ensure that your child is supported with their class and social learning. The tutor knows your child pastorally and is able to intervene if help is needed.

In some cases, classes are lucky enough to have the support of an extra adult (TA). The TA can work with small groups on targeted interventions; more individually with students or work with larger groups in order for the teacher to work with targeted students.

Corfe Hills School also has a Special Educational Needs Coordinator (SENCo) who coordinates the provision for those on the SEND register; acts as a point of contact for any SEND outside agencies working with the school and leads the strategic vision for SEND throughout the school. The SENCo or senior members of the SEND team also attend meetings with you, your child and these outside agencies wherever necessary.

Our Headteacher works closely with the teachers, the SENCo, the Local School Committee and the Director for Education to ensure that attainment and progress for all students at Corfe Hills School is constantly improving.

If you wish to contact any of the teachers, the SENCo or the headteacher, please either phone the office on 01202 006666 or via the office email office@corfehills.net

How does Corfe Hills School assess and review my child's progress towards their targets?

This is a continuous process. We monitor your young person's progress in a variety of ways including dropping into lessons, looking at their books and carefully analysing any assessment data.

There are different methods of assessing and reviewing your child and this will vary according to their needs but may include the following:

- Seeking parent's views and discussions at Parent Consultation meetings
- Termly review of your child's profile which, where appropriate, will include the views of your child
- Analysis of attainment and progress data by the class teacher and SENCo
- SENCo observations, diagnostic tests or advice from outside agencies and professionals
- Teacher assessments: observations, tracking progress and attainment, assessments and tests.
- Teaching Assistant records, observations, meetings with the SENCo

How will I know how my child is doing?

If your child is identified as having a SEND, they will have an individual student profile. The profile includes strategies for the teachers to use in the classroom, information from your child about what helps them to learn, how they can help themselves and how home can help. Teachers have targets for students' progress in their subject and their current progress is shared with you in Progress Checks.

If your child has an EHCP, then you will also have an Annual Review where your child and all adults working with them come together and decide what longer term targets and provision may be appropriate.

Alongside this, Corfe Hills School also has regular parents' evenings and progress checks to tell you how your child is doing at school.

We keep in regular contact with you and you with us by using email primarily.

How will the school's approach to teaching and learning be matched to my child's needs?

The majority of our students with an identified SEND will have their needs met at the school support level. This means that, through high quality teaching, scaffolded ways into the learning and appropriate differentiation, most children will make good progress. In some instances, there may need to be slight adaptations to the curriculum in order for your child to access it. This is nothing to worry about.

Using the information from any assessments, we work with you and your child to carefully plan the support needed and ensure that the plan is carried out. We then work together to review the plan and make any changes necessary. This is known as the graduated response. To find out more about the graduated response, please click here.

There are times when your child's needs may be affected by other factors which are not educational but nevertheless, impact on learning.

Below are some examples of other influences upon progress:

- Attendance and punctuality
- Behaviour where there is no underlying SEND
- Bereavement and family issues
- Disability where there is no impact on progress and attainment
- English as an additional language
- Health and welfare
- Looked after and previously looked after children
- Pupils who are classed as Pupil Premium
- Children from families in the services

These needs are also supported through our joint working with you, your child and other professionals and services such as Early Help, Inclusion Leads from our locality, Mosaic, Virtual School, The Educational Psychology Service, and Dorset or BCP Multi Agency Service Hub.

We can also adapt the environment to support your child's needs, for example, by using technology or adaptive seating.

What support will there be for my child's overall wellbeing?

We ensure that we get to know your child very well. Your child's tutor and student support manager is able to support your child's wellbeing through tutor time, RPSHE activities and check ins.

If your child needs more support, the school has a senior mental health lead who can co-ordinate provision for your child. The senior mental health lead is Claire Ratcliffe and can be contacted by phoning the school office on 01202 006666.

If your child is struggling with a mental health issue that can be deemed as severe, we will work with you both to refer to an appropriate agency such as CAMHS.

At Corfe Hills School, we teach the students about bullying and how to report it if it is seen or experienced. Bullying is not tolerated under any circumstances. We teach many of the concepts linked to anti-bullying through our thorough and progressive PSHE curriculum. Our anti-bullying champions are Chloe Inskip and Tania Planells. If you or your child feels that they are being bullied, please do speak to your child's tutor or student support manager.

What about children with foster carers or children who have been adopted?

All children at Corfe Hills School are treated as individuals and their unique talents and strengths are celebrated. If your child is in care or is adopted, please do talk to us to see if there is further support needed. We will always work with you and your child to make sure that we respond to your child's needs.

How will my child be included in activities outside the classroom, including school trips?

At Corfe Hills School, we run a variety of clubs and trips for our students. If your child wishes to join a club, we will endeavour to make that happen. Our school trips are planned for all students to be able to take part, although we may conduct thorough risk assessments for those identified with SEND to ensure that they are able to participate in the learning safely and enjoyably.

If we are concerned about a risk to your child, we will work with you to try and overcome this.

How do you listen to my child's views?

Your child's views are of utmost importance to us. We believe in 'doing with' not 'doing to' and so will always seek to involve your child as the very first thing we do.

Many children are able to express their views verbally to a trusted adult and we will capture this on their profiles. If your child is not confident or not able to express their views verbally, we have a range of strategies for them to be able to contribute such as using pictures, writing or using more physical ways of communication such as hand gestures.

We always present information in an age and stage appropriate way to increase your child's participation in the decisions about their learning.

Sometimes, it is more appropriate for you to gather their views at home. If this is the case, and you are happy to do that, we are able to give you any guidance and support you may need.

How does Corfe Hills School support students moving between phases and preparing for adulthood?

Moving between phases / schools can be a daunting time for you and your child. We are here to help your child successfully transfer to their next step in education and to help them start to prepare for adulthood.

Most young people are able to transition to different phases of education with minimal support but, for those identified as having a SEND, it can be overwhelming. If this is the case for your child, we work with you to agree a plan so that your child's learning journey can be continued. The plan can include (but isn't limited to):

- Meetings with students
- Meeting with parents
- Advanced planning for students in year 8 transitioning to upper school / year 11 transitioning to 6th Form or college
- Visits to/from feeder schools and receiving establishments
- Correspondence, liaison and meetings with class teachers and SENCOs
- Observing students in class

- Arranging for preliminary visits for students to their new schools/ college
- Arranging induction lessons/sessions for students in their new schools /college
- Attending Annual Reviews of students with EHCPs

What training have the staff had?

We are proud that our SENCo has the National Award for SEND and ten years' experience working as a SENCO. They attend networking with other SENCOs, locality briefings where important information is given out and attend training that is relevant to the school's needs. They are also a level 3 trained safeguarding lead and mental health lead.

Our SENCo is given 10 hours a week to lead the SEND provision at Corfe Hills School.

We are also lucky to have a team of 15 teaching assistants and ELSAs who are trained to deliver SEND provision.

How do you work with other agencies?

Sometimes, we may need more specialist advice or support to meet the needs of your child. This includes locality support services such as specialist teachers, Educational Psychologists, early help/ family workers or social workers. We may need the advice of health professionals such as paediatricians or school nurses or seek advice from voluntary sectors such as Mosaic.

If we think that your child may need support from outside services, we will discuss this with you before we action anything. Of course, if there is a risk of harm to your child, this is overridden by our safeguarding processes.

In most cases your child will be seen in school by these services, and we will all work closely with you and your child to agree the outcomes and support. This will be reviewed regularly.

How do I complain about SEND provision at Corfe Hills School?

We would really hope that there is no cause for complaint and we encourage feedback at all stages of support for your child, but sometimes this may be a step that you wish to take.

There is a process for complaints which is detailed in our complaints policy (click POLICY - COMPLAINTS SEPT 24.docx to read the policy)

Step 1: ask for an informal or formal way to communicate with the SENCO. The SENCO should be able to help resolve your complaint.

If your complaint is not resolved, then you need to move onto more formal proceedings:

Step 2: ask for a meeting with the headteacher and SENCo. They should be able to respond to your complaint.

If you feel that your complaint has still not been resolved:

Step 3: You will need to file a complaint form which can be provided by the office and a member of the Local School Committee, or another appropriate individual, will contact you to investigate the complaint.
